

Participation at the "China Coal and Mining Expo 2015" in Beijing

The "China Coal and Mining Expo 2015" was held in the Beijing International Exhibition Center from the 29th October until the 1st November. It was the 16th time for the Expo to take place and the Famous Industrial Group participated for the 4th time as a foreign exhibitor.

This year's organizer of the Expo was the China National Coal Association. The goal of the Expo which takes place every two years is to enhance international cooperation and communication and sustainable development technology for the mining sector. Since the first opening in 1985, the Expo presents the most modern national and international mining technologies and machineries needed in the mining sector. Over the years the China Coal and Mining Expo could report a steady growth of exhibitors. Furthermore the rising competency and internationalization of the Expo made it to one of the most successful Expos of the country.

The Famous Industrial group continuously participated as an exhibitor for the last 8 years. Famous used the same space as last time and designed it stand on two levels. Visitors could see an air refrigeration system and much more information on presentation on screens spread throughout the whole stand. Numerous interested clients visited famous' stand and asked for information about strategy and much more.

Famous is offering individualized systems to control the climate in Chinese mines. The in Yantai, under German standards built air refrigeration machines and direct evaporators which were presented for the first time at the Expo, got the best feedback from all sides of the industry and experts.

Not only did Famous strengthen the positive image of itself at the Expo but also got potential new clients. Retrospectively was the Expo a huge success for Famous.
