

Hefei Design and Research Institute of Coal Industry visits Famous

Düsseldorf, Germany – On Monday, the 24th of September 2014, a delegation of the Hefei Design and Research Institute of Coal Industry visited the Famous Industrial Group in Düsseldorf, Germany.

Hefei Design and Research Institute of Coal Industry, which belongs to the State A-class design and research organizations, was founded in 1953. It is also one of the high-tech enterprises in Anhui Province. Hefei Design and Research Institute of Coal Industry holds more than 40 national and provincial issued qualification certificates in many different branches such as coal industry (mines and coal preparation plants) engineering design, engineering survey, construction, electricity, roads, municipal engineering, landscape architecture, environmental engineering, project consulting, project cost, project supervision, environmental supervision, mining engineering, general contracting, urban planning, civil air defense project, landscape design, pressure vessel design, pressure piping design, oil and gas (offshore oil) industry (especially pipeline) design, coal and non-coal mine production capacity approval, safety evaluation, soil and water conservation plan, foundation engineering testing, geological foundation engineering detection, fixed asset investment project assessment, etc.

After deep business talks with Famous Industrial Group, the delegation visited WAT Wärme-Austausch-Technik GmbH in Hamminkeln to have a discussion about the future cooperation between the two companies.